For this purpose, "PBT" shall refer to the audited consolidated profits before taxation and before profit sharing (excluding non-recurring exceptional items and extraordinary items) but before minority interests of the Group for the relevant financial year.

Please refer to the table below for the rate of the incentive bonus each Entitled Officer is entitled to under the terms of their respective service agreements with the Company:

	Mr Chua Beng Yong	Mr Yong Jiunn Run	Mr Chua Meng Hua	Mr Chua Beng Hock

2.3 Incentive bonus for FY2024

Based on the audited financial statements of the Group for FY2024, the Group recorded a PATMI of S$11,538,435 and a PBT of S$25,400,070. Each Relevant Employee is therefore entitled to an incentive bonus (the "Performance Incentives") under the terms of their respective service agreements or appointment letters with the Group. The value of the Performance Incentive each Relevant Employee is entitled to is set out in Column (A) of the table below.

In order to conserve the Company's cash resources to enable the Company to capitalise on growth opportunities in the coming year: (i) each Entitled Officer has agreed to give up approximately 40.0% of his Performance Incentive; and (ii) each Entitled Executive has agreed to give up approximately 27.0% of his/her Performance Incentive (the reduced amount of Performance Incentives to be received by the Relevant Employees, the "Reduced Incentives").

In addition, to further conserve the Company's cash resources, each of the Relevant Employees have also agreed to receive 30.0% of their Reduced Incentives via an issue and allotment of Compensation Shares with the remaining 70.0% of the Reduced Incentives to be paid in cash in full (i.e. the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance). As agreed between the Company and each of the Relevant Employees, the Compensation Shares shall be issued at an issue price of S$0.185 per Compensation Shares, such issue price representing a 10.0% discount to the weighted average price for trades done on the SGX-ST on the Latest Practicable Date.

Together, the Reduced Incentives and the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance will allow the Company to conserve approximately S$2,915,696 in cash as opposed to paying each Relevant Employee his/her Performance Incentive by way of cash in full.

The table below sets out the amount of Performance Incentive each Relevant Employee is contractually entitled to receive, the total Reduced Incentive in respect of each Relevant Employee, the value of the Compensation Shares to be issued and allotted to the Relevant Employee and the amount of Reduced Incentive to be paid in cash:

2.5 Rationale of the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance

The Company intends to undertake the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance in order to conserve the Company's cash resources to enable the Company to capture future growth opportunities. As mentioned above, each of the Relevant Employees are entitled to Performance Incentives which are to be paid in cash; the Proposed Compensation Share has the result of preserving the cash reserves of the Company, while rewarding Relevant Employees for their effort and commitment to the Group in FY2024.

Taking into account the above, the Remuneration Committee is of the opinion that the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance is in the interest of the Company as the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance will align the interests of the Relevant Employees with the Company and will result in a conservation of the Company's cash resources. Each member of the Board has also abstained from participating in the deliberation and recommendation of, and voting on, any resolution in respect of his or her own entitlement to the Compensation Shares.

For the avoidance of doubt, in the event the Proposed Compensation Share Issuance is not approved by Shareholders at the EGM in respect of any Relevant Employee, the Company will pay to such Relevant Employee the full amount of the Reduced Incentives that such Relevant Employee is entitled to by way of cash (i.e. in the amounts set out in Column (C) of the table set out in Section 2.3 of this Circular).
